

Expertise in narrow web inks

Contributed by XSYS Print Solutions

XSYS Print Solutions is the company, within Flint Group, that is an excellent example of focus and dedication to the marketplace

XSYS Print Solutions is working solely in the tag and label market – concentrating on the narrow web converter. By focusing our divisions and departments on clear customer groups, we become experts in specific customer issues. We understand your business and concerns better and, therefore, we are better equipped to provide solutions that work for you.

XSYS Print Solutions providing global and local technical support

XSYS Print Solutions provides a comprehensive, worldwide infrastructure – mastering all techniques for narrow web label and packaging printing. Converters are serviced globally from 37 facilities worldwide along with a strong global network of distributors. XSYS Print Solutions provides unequalled local technical support – our people know the demands our customers are facing and constantly strive to provide immediate answers with a keen ability for solving problems. The focus and entrepreneurial spirit of our people plays an important role in the responsiveness we offer our customers. We can and we will solve your problems, everywhere!

Our mission is to offer the highest possible quality products in individual print technologies. Award-winning quality is our standard, but we look beyond the inevitable print quality – with a value-added approach we create services that will deliver improved bottom line profitability, providing real-life, real-time solutions. Improved productivity is possible when you work with specialists and the inks that bring ultimate performance.

XSYS Print Solutions offers the widest product range and takes great pride in the high and consistent quality of our press-ready products. We offer UV and water-based flexo, UV offset, UV screen, and flatbed and rotary letterpress.

In addition, we offer a wide range of varnishes, adhesives, primers, and specialty and security inks.

XSYS Print Solutions – pushing the boundaries of product decoration

We know narrow web printing inks – we take pride in this knowledge and constantly strengthen our competence in this field via very close co-operation with leading suppliers and industry specialists. We have our own label printing centres with state-of-the-art narrow web presses, enabling us to conduct thorough on-press evaluations. We understand all parameters influencing the end result and can offer guidance beyond the ink, speaking the language of colour and brand awareness. Ultimately, the end goal of our products is to make your labels and brands stand out. With our technology centres we have created an environment that ensures continued product innovation – and through close relationships with innovative industry peers, we constantly develop products that will take the market to the next level.

Our offer – a comprehensive approach to narrow web printing

Our vision is simple: work with one ink supplier – XSYS Print Solutions! We provide you the expertise, the people, the ink and the solutions. Our job is never-ending – to prove this to you and your operation consistently and when you need it. We are the natural choice for the narrow web industry.

XSYS Print Solutions is a part of the Flint Group. The Flint group develops, produces and markets printing inks, printing plates and pigments/resins for the graphics and packaging industry. XSYS Print Solutions is the leading innovator and only global ink player who has dedicated resources fully focusing on narrow web converters worldwide. XSYS Print Solutions offers a full range of UV and water-based products designed for the wider world of label and narrow web printing.

XSYS Print Solutions – with approximately 360 employees – provides local, personalised, technical support from 40 locations globally, strategically located throughout the US, Europe, Asia, Latin America and Africa.

For further information please visit:

www.xsys-printsolutions.com